Work has been started at the Alexandria ferry wharf, foot of 7th street, putting it in order for the resumption of business. The floating platform leading from the wharf to the steamer, which had been worked out of position by the swell of the passing steamboats, is being restored to its proper position, and before the ferry steamer arrives here from New York will be ready for service. The damage done to the wharf by the fire is but small and will the whart by the life is to see for the ferry route business.

The steamer Fulton, which is to run on the route, will arrive here, it is stated, about the middle of next week, and the route will be opened as soon as possible.

The old ferry steamer Belle Haven, lying at Alexandria, which has become unfit for service on the route, is to be sold and will be broken up for the metal in her.

Fan Chains.

From the Pilgrim.

Nothing is prettier for the popular fan chains than coral beads, especially when worn with a white dress. Amber beads are almost in equal favor, though more expen-The most inexpensive chains are the imitation turquoise. Try stringing the beads on the finest violin strings instead of thread, for they will then stand an unusual amount of wear and tear before breaking. It seems needless to add, these chains should not be worn in the morning. For practical wear, the dogskin glove is most serviceable. White gloves are never seen in the morning, brown tan and shades of in the morning, brown tan and shades of steel and iron gray being the proper colors. Gloves for evening wear are almost invariably white. The newest street glove, though rather long-wristed, has but one button, but that is a large white pearl. Our English cousins have discovered a new use for the safety pin, viz., to pin on the hat. A six-inch gold wire safety pin, called the yachting or motoring cap pin, and designed to pin through the top of the cap, is retailing in London for $20.

CONDENSED LOCALS

A man about forty-five years old, who registered at Hoy's Hotel last night as William Dugan, was found in his room this morning in an unconscious condition, caused by inhaling illuminating gas. The 15 gas had either been accidentally turned off 13 or the light blown out by the occupant of 12 the room. The window of the room was 12 open, and this probably saved his life. His 12 condition was serious when the hospital was reached, but he was soon restored to consciousness, and, it is believed, will re-

ASSOCIATION OF DENTISTS.

Colored Members of Profession in Convention. The annual election of officers and the consideration of several matters demanding immediate attention constituted the principal business before this morning's session of the third annual convention of the National Association of Colored Dentists, at Freedmen's Hospital. The session was very short, and early this afternoon the entire membership of the association went down the Potomac on an outing. A most interesting session of the convention was held yesterday afternoon and last evening, when various members submitted papers on the various phases of dentistry. Dr. R. G. Baker of Baltimore, Md., began the meeting by reading a paper on "Alve-ola Abcess," followed, in turn, by Dr. Allie M. Waring of Washington, on "Dental Ethics;" Dr. W. S. Loften of Washington, on "Porcelain Inlays;" Dr. D. A. Ferguson, on "Combination of Amalgam and Cement in Fillings," and Dr. D. W. Onley, on "Negro Dentists and the National Association of Colored Dentists."

A popular accessory of dress this summer is the fichu, or 1830 pelerine, falling from the shoulder with long scarf ends. For the young lady, it is of chiffon, crepe de chine or silk net, edged all around with a three at the Washington barracks by the United or four-inch double frill of lace, though ruffles of the material make a pretty finish When trimmed with but a single ruffle slightly gathered and graduated in width, these are particularly becoming to stout women, the two decided points in front brought down below the belt line considerably lengthening the appearance of a short waist. The fur collar of last winter is copied in lace for embellishing summer copied in lace for embellishing summer gowns, and provides a charming decoration for a plain silk dress. It should be made wide, with long stole ends of heavy, deep cream-colored lace. To obtain the festooned effect so much used in wide lace on the summer waists, pieces of equal size are cut from the top of the lace at regular intervals. Experiment with a strip of cloth the width of the lace, and when you find the size of the oblong to be cut, make a paper pattern.

> The Trolley. or and From the New York Sun.

The trolley is on the way to become universal in the United States. The owners of storm-swift steeds deplore or swear at it. The votary of rural quiet seeks towns not yet penetrated by the new civilizer. The citizens of many ancient and delightful villages fight against it. But it is inevitable, as well as mighty convenient. Troller rides are a favorite form of amusement rides are a favorite form of amusement. Often they lead through charming pastoral regions, old shaded streets, pleasant views of coast and mountain. Trolley vacations are sensible and cheap; and the lines are new so extended and continuous in many parts of the country that a trolley traveler may go far and pleasantly with few "breaks" of his journey and portages of his bargage. his baggage.

A bicycle ridden by B. P. McGinniss of Anacostia was struck by a team in charge of G. C. Matthews near Pennsylvania avenue and 9th street late yesterday afternoon. The wheelman was thrown to the pavement, but was not badly injured.

FOR THE ARMY BOARD OF FORTI-FICATIONS.

Capt. Tracy C. Dickson Selected Because Col. Reber Was Deemed Ineligible.

Secretary Root delegated to Gen. Gilespie, chief of engineers, and Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, the delicate duty of selecting a recorder and disbursing officer of the board of ordnance and fortification. an office made vacant by the detachment of Capt. Wm. W. Gibson of the ordnance department, who has been assigned to Juty on the general staff and ordered to the Philippines. After a thorough canvass of the field Gens. Gillespie and Crozier united in the selection of Capt. Tracy C. Dickson of the ordnance department, now on duty in the bureau of ordnance, War Department, for that office, and their selection has been approved by the Secretary of War. Lieut. Col. Samuel Reber of the Signal Corps. now on the staff of Lieut. Gen. Miles, was suggested for the assignment and undoubtedly would have been selected but for the fact that he was found ineligible for such assignment under a ruling made by the Secretary of War, that no member of the general staff should be called upon to per-form any other duty, as it was desired to leave them entirely free for any assignment under the general staff that might be deemed essential without possibility of embar-rassing any other branch of the military

Lieut. Col. Reber is a member of the general staff, and as such is subject to assign-ment outside of the limits of the District of Columbia. It was deemed necessary that the recorder of the board of ordnance and fortifications should be stationed in Washington so as to be at all times available for the purposes of the board, which has its headquarters in the War Department and holds all its regular meetings in It is understood that Lieut, Gen. Miles, who is president of the board, recom-mended Lieut. Col. Reber for the position of recorder, but that he did so without knowledge of the intention of the depart-ment to assign that officer to duty elsewhere in connection with the business of the general staff. Although not yet announced, it is believed to be settled that Gen. Gillesple will succeed to the presi-dency of the board of ordnance and fortifications when Gen. Miles retires from active service next month.

LARGELY ATTENDED.

Fete at Sherman Square Proves to Be Success.

There were fully 2,000 people at the lawn fete at Sherman square last evening, where the United Societies of Patriotic Women are giving a lawn fete, the proceeds of which are to swell the relief funds of the nine organizations taking part.

Down in town the people were sweltering under the waves of heat that had melted the asphalt during the day, but on the side of the Sherman square hill, which stands high above the heat and dust of the city, the air was cool and refreshing. The amusements were more numerous last evening, and the affair takes on more than ever the appearance of a big oriental bazaar. Nearly every organization has a bugler, a drum corps, a fifer or a cornetist to assist in attracting customers, and the Klondike of the national organization of Spanish war auxiliaries has the big talk-ing machine loaned by Kann's Sons. Many of the booths have costumed attendants.
